A New Year's Pudding

Take some human nature as you find it,
The commonest variety will do;
Put a little graciousness behind it.
Add a lump of charity or two.

Squeeze in just a drop of moderation,
Half as much frugality, or less,
And some very fine consideration,
Strain off all of poverty's distress.

Pour some milk of human kindness in it,
Put in it all the happiness you can;
Stir it up with laughter every minute,
Season with good will towards every man.

Set it on the fire of heart's affection,
Leave it till the jolly bubbles rise,
Sprinkle it with kisses for confection,
Sweeten with a look of loving eyes.

Flavor it with children's merry chatter,
Frost it with the snow of wintry dells,
Place it on a holly-garnished platter,
And serve with the song of New Year's bells.

Art Group's Christmas Party Abounds With Gay Decorations

"Ideas Unlimited" might have been the theme for the December meeting of the Arts and Crafts Department of Arcadia Woman's Club, as they gathered for the annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Edward Verhoef.

The house was a veritable fairyland of color and beauty, from the glistening Christmas tree, the gaily decorated mantel hung with bright colored stockings, to the lovely pink and silver arrangement that graced the dining room table. Every room seemed to say "Merry Christmas!"

The beautiful golden wreath that adorned the entrance and which Mrs. Verhoef proudly displays each holiday season, was fashioned by the capable hands of Olwyn Stephens.

Following the pot-luck luncheon, a short business meeting was held and the chairman Mrs. Charles Ganther announced the group would work on the philanthropy project at the next meeting, Jan. 18, at the Clubhouse. Mrs. Elmer Godfrey will have charge of this project.

Mrs. Verhoef demonstrated the making of beeswax candles after which guests were surprised by a visit from Santa Claus in person.

Present were Mmes. Russell Augspurger, George Benton, Jack Burge, Leslie Campbell, George Castle, Callie Chase, Harriet Clugston, Clifford Emberson, Ernest Fuerst, Charles Ganther, Freeman Gates, Ralph George, William Hubbs, Arthur Hughes, Marie Johnson, Harriet Leitz, John LeNoir, Philip Sherk, Thomas Swirles, Harold Tupper, Edward Verhoef, Albert Weickert.

Assisting the hostess were Mmes. George, Hughes, Leitz and Sherk.

THEME: The Joy of Working

Happy is the person who has found work in which he can give expression to his own personality. Such work gives every man an audience and a message. He no longer lives a life to himself. His personality, though small in itself, gets out of itself and acquires possessions in the world about him. These possessions become his personal property, which in turn enriches his own life and gives him a permanent place in the world. To find one's work, therefore, means that he shall no longer labor for money or for fame, but for the joy of working. He who attains this status places himself among the "us" of whom Rudyard Kipling sings:

And only the Master shall praise "Us",
and only the Master shall blame;
And no one shall work for money,
and no one shall work for fame;
But each for the joy of working,
and each in his separate star,
Shall draw the thing as he sees it for the God of things as they are.

Club Art Section Applies Talents To Hat Designing

The Arts and Crafts department of Arcadia Woman's club met Monday, March 21, in one of the most creative sessions of the current year.

Under the able direction of Helen Taylor, some of the most ravishing, flower be-decked hats appeared almost as if by magic. Sans labels and sans price-tags, some of these creations might offer real competition to Sally Victor, Mr. John and the others.

Luncheon tables were beautifully decorated with camellias and greenery, expertly assembled by Mrs. E. J. Verhoef. Mrs. A. L. Weickert and her committee served a delicious dessert, and following luncheon, a short business meeting was held with Mrs. Charles Ganther, presiding.

Plans were made for participation in Arts and Crafts Day at the club on May 4, at which time there will be an exhibit of projects of the department.

Appointed to service as a nominating committee for the department were Mrs. Leslie Campbell, Mrs. Albert Weickert and Harriet Leitz. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Homer Brown.

Members present were Mmes. Freeman Gates, George Castle, Ralph George, Harriet Leitz, Callie Chase, Albert Weickert, Charles Ganther, Ernest Fuerst, Scott Swirles, Louis Taylor, Elmer Godfrey, Homer Brown, Leslie Campbell, Harriet Clugston, Edward Verhoef and Daniel Slattery.

Sand Witches To Entertain At Woman's Club

A unique demonstration of sand painting will be presented by The Sand Witches of Desert Hot Springs at the Woman's Club of Arcadia on Wednesday, May 4 at 1:30 p.m.

Sand painting, which has become a fascinating hobby as well as a lucrative profession, was originally developed by the Navajo Indian. The Sand Witches will narrate the historical background of this art, exhibit completed paintings, and demonstrate the actual process. The narrator, a member of Toastmistress International, will be assisted by two helpers; all three appear in the Navajo Squaw costume.

Luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m. Decorations will be in charge of the Arts and Crafts Department whose members are being honored at this meeting. There will be an arts and crafts display of the department's completed projects and a showing of paintings done by a club member.

Arts and Crafts of India Now On Display at Hinshaw's Store

Indian arts and crafts are now on display at Hinshaw's. Colorful booklets about India are being distributed in the store's Boutique on the main level. The informative booklets, which have been prepared by the Government of India, are free for the asking while they last.

Sudha Patel, famed Indian dancer, will perform native dances in authentic costume at Hinshaw's on Jan. 23. She will appear on the main deck located center of the main level at 2, and in the auditorium at 2:30.

The petite performer was trained in India's classic temple dances almost as soon as she could walk. She has appeared as a featured dancer throughout south India and the western U.S. Her dances are performed to centuries old music played on the native instruments of India and taped especially for her appearances in this country.

The extensive Indian exhibit includes many rare pieces from the private collection of Sajjan Singh Sarna, New York importer. Unusual pieces in carved Shesham and Teakwood, native drums, filigreed lanterns, engraved brass, saris and hand woven fabrics, decorative wood sculptures, outstanding poster art and the famed Bells of Sarna are among the exotic pieces bringing the lure of the Orient to the store this week.

Collectors of bells will be especially interested in the exhibits of sacred cow bells, elephant bells, water carrier bells, dancing bells, temple bells and many more. Each bell has its own story attached as to its origin, use, symbolism and traditional association. From the throaty voice of the temple bell to the delicate tinkle of the curry kohli bell, each tone is different because the bells are individually handcrafted.

Thanksgiving Day

Over the river and through the wood
To grandfather's house we go;
The horse knows the way
To carry the sleigh
Through the white and drifted snow.

Over the river and through the wood,
And straight through the barnyard gate;
We seem to go
Extremely slow,
It is so hard to wait!

Over the river and through the wood,
Now Grandmother's cap I spy!
Hurrah for the fun!
Is the pudding done?
Hurrah for the pumpkin pie!

when finished

Halloween Do-it-Yourself

By Tom Congdon

The regular spooks are off tonight,
And amateur ghosts, in shrouds of white,
Are doing the neighborhood haunting chores
With shrieks and moans and thumps on doors.

The rest of the year the small fry quake
At sounds in the dark the goblins make,
But Halloween's when any wee one
Can don an old sheet, go out and be one.

TIME'S LOOM

A NEW shuttle has been placed in the loom of time, where with unmeasured rhythm it flies to and fro, weaving a pattern that age cannot fade.

Varied are the different skeins through which the shuttle is thrown. Some are coarse disappointments, some delicate insights, others finely tinted understandings, and not a few brilliantly colored achievements. Only on occasion can we unravel what was woven yesterday by pulling the threads of forgiveness, repentance, and high resolve. How terrifying is it to realize that each thought, each motive, deed, and neglect is woven into the pattern! But even more enchanting is it to know that these coarse threads may be woven in such a manner as to accentuate by contrast the beauty, delicacy, and texture of the softer, finer ones!

We are the weavers, and though we cannot stop [illegible] loom, still we may determine what kind of patter[n] New Year's shuttle shall weave.
